THE SKIN AND SCALP.

How to Preserve Them and How to Treat Them when Diseased.

A FAIR SKIN AND LUXURIANT TRESSES THE SECRET OF BEAUTY-SOME OF THE TORTURES INFLICTED BY SKIN- AND by which it was sought to be accomplished? despensable in most cases. It is in every SCALP-DISEASES-A VALUABLE TREA-TISE, BY MARY E. JOSSELYNE, M. D., OF NEW YORK.

Apart from the suffering caused by skin diseases their influence on the happiness of those to whom a delicate and pearly complexion is the dearest wish of their lives is paramount to all others. No lady afflicted with cutaneous eruptions or loss of bair will ant tresses she would gladly exchange the disfigurations that now mar her otherwise handsome face, hands, or hair for other diseases of greater severity-even dangercould their existence be concealed from the public eye. There is something repulsive about a face covered with humor; and all ers of conversation can scarcely remove sublimate, the proto-iodide, and the blue other remedies if diseased, and preserve the impression produced on one who wit- pill; five arsenic, three iodine-all corronesses it. It is remembered when more important and worthy subjects are forgotten. Many an estimable lady's life has been emgines that every one sees and comments productions of quacks and patent-medicine upon her looks. She avoids society and public places, and endeavors to hide her misery in seclusion. Here the struggle to improve her appearance is renewed. No remedy is too repul-ive or dangerous to be used. Arsenic is devoured in large quantities, merload of poisons it is obliged to carry. If such be the feelings of one afflicted

The daily occupation of many, want of ties. cleanliness in others, and the inheritance of a sluggish skin, pave the way for numerous diseases of these vessels and tubes. Their contents, instead of flowing freely, become hard and impacted, and the vessels are not emptied. Hence the origin of many diseases.

Sometimes the action of the gland is too great, and oil is poured out so profusely that the surface shines with it. At other times there is so little that the skin is dry and hard. In the hardened oily matter that constitutes comedones are found small animals, which Eresmus Wilson, the great authority, calls "the animal of the oily product of the skin."

darkness that has surrounded the intellect of the past. To a few German and French physicians and specialists we owe what true progress we are making at the present time in the cure of obstinate affections of the skin and scalp. Hence, when Messrs. Weeks & Potter. chemists and druggists, of Boston, informed me that for eight years they had been experimenting with medicinal agents, and had obtained mostly from substances never before used in medicine, and by a process original with themselves, three great remedies, which they believed to be an infallible cure for every kind of skin- and scalp-disease from salt rheum to dandruff, whether caused by a scrofulous- or diseased-tainted blood, or by a morbid condition of the glands, tubes, vessels, and cells of the true skin, or both. It would require every column of this paper to do justice to a description of the cures performed by the Cuticura remedies. Eczema of the palms of the hands and of the ends of the fingers, very difficult to treat and usually considered incurable, small patches of tetter and salt rheum on the ears. nose, and sides of the face, scald heads with loss of hair without number, heads covered with dandruff and scaly eruptions-especially of children and infants, many of which since birth had been a mass of scabs-psoriasis, leprosy, and other frightful forms of skin diseases, scrofulous ulcers, old sores, and discharging wounds; each and all of which have been speedily, permanently, and economically cured by the Cuticur, remedies.

Of such a record Messrs. Weeks & Potter may be justly proud. It is a grand wedical triumph, a triumph that will be gr atefully remembered by thousands long after the originators have passed away.

To relieve and permanently care diseases of the skin and scalp which 'save been the torture of a lifetime, to replace the repulsive evidences of disease with the glow of health, and thus render beautiful the face of man or woman, is to deserve, the gratitude of mankind.

This tract of land is so well known in James City county that a further description is deemed unnecessary, but for the information of strangers who may wish to purchase I. It may not be improper to say that it has a front on York river of about two miles and exten is back for more than a mile. The largest timber to some extent his been cut from this land, but there is still on it a candiderable quantity of wood of small and large grawth. There is on it a large NEW FRAME DWELLING of ample accommodations, together with the usual out buildon it a large NEW FRAME DWELLING of ample accommodations, together with the usual out buildings. Some of the land is cleared and well adapted for trucking-farms, and having so large a front on York tiver, gives it great facilities for shipping its products to the northern markets. As the property will positively be sold, persons may attend the sale with the expectation of buying a bargain. The property could be so divided into several parts as to give river-fronts to them.
